REGULATION OF FOOD SUPPLIES NOT STRINGENT

Will Follow Rules Adopted By Allies, With Some Modification

HOOVER GETS INFORMATION IN ENGLAND AND FRANCE

England's Rules Are Strict and Violation Punished By Imprisonment

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, May 26.—Food regulations of the allies which probably will furnish the basis for somewhat similar rules in the United States are being assembled by the government.

American regulations probably will be less stringent, but this is not deterring Herbert C. Hoover, selected for food administrator, and other officials from giving careful study to the codes of other warring nations.

Here are some of the more striking British regulations:

For public meals the allowance of meat is based on an average of five ounces for each luncheon and dinner, and two ounces for each breakfast served on non-meatless days.

Tuesdays are meatless days in London and Wednesdays elsewhere in the kingdom.

Potatoes must not be served except on meatless days and Fridays.

The making of any light fancy pastries, muffins, crumpets, fancy tea cakes and other light articles of food is prohibited.

No ornamental cake or bun may be made.

Sale of bread, unless 12 hours old, is prohibited.

All bread must be sold by weight and all loaves must be one pound or an even number of pounds.

Fifteen per cent of sugar is allowed in cakes and biscuits; ten per cent in buns. No sugar may be used in scones.

No person shall acquire supplies of food beyond the needs of his ordinary consumption. The food controller may order the inspection of premises in which he has reason to believe that hoarding is taking place.

No wheat, rye, rice or tapioca may be used except as human foods.

The output of beer is limited to the rate of 10 million barrels per annum as compared with 36,000,000 barrels before the war.

Penalties for violation of any rule is six months imprisonment or one hundred pounds fine, or both.

Congress continued to debate the administration food bills today in both houses.

No other subject connected with the conduct of the war contains such an intimate interest for the American people and that fact was recognized by the nature of the discussion which covered a wide range.

The first bill, proposing methods to stimulate production, is first under consideration while the committees are at work on another bill to provide machinery of a food administration to be headed by Herbert C. Hoover.

GRANGE MASTER OFFERS SERVICE TO FOOD BOARD

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, O., May 26.—L. J. Taber, master of the Ohio State Grange, believes that men who know the farm, as well as professional men and bankers should be on the federal food control board, of which Herbert C. Hoover is to be director.

With this in view he has offered his services to Hoover and added the assurances that 75,000 Ohio farmers will lend their assistance to his program.

"A fair price to the producer with only honest profit to producer is our motto, "said Taber's message to the food director.

CAN'T BUILD VESSELS OF WOOD SAYS GOETHALS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, May 26.—The ships that the American government will build to beat the German submarines and carry supplies to our European allies, will be constructed of steel instead of wood, and the men who control the output of iron and steel in this country have given their pledge to Major General George W. Goethals to furnish the necessary materials.

General Goethals' appeal last night for the co-operation of the iron and steel manufacturers found an enthusiastic and patriotic response at the dinner after he had told them that the proposal to build one thousand 3000-ton wooden ships in eighteen months "is simply hopeless."

ITALIANS MAKE NEW GAINS AND TAKE PRISONERS

Draw Their Lines Closer to the Austrian City of Triest

CAPTURE 3500 AUSTRIANS; HEAVY FIGHTING REPORTED

Germans Fight Desperately to Gain Ground From French

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Rome (via London), May 26.—The Italians have captured 3500 more prisoners on the Carso, the war office announces. Heavy fighting continues.

The Italians made important progress in the coastal region in the direction of Triest. They carried trenches from the mouth of the Timavo river, on the Gulf of Triest, to a point east of Jamiano, and also the heights between Flondar and Medeazza.

The Italians also made progress east of Boscomalo in the region of Castagnavizza, north of Tivoli and in the Plava zone.

The statement says the number of prisoners taken on the Julian front from May 14 up to yesterday is 22,-419.

FRENCH HOLD POSITIONS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, May 26.—On the front in nothern France the Germans are making desperate efforts to oust the French from the vantage points they have gained recently north of the Chemin des Dames and in the Craonne region. The French are standing fast, however. An instance of their holding power was given last night when they maintained intact their salient positions, east and west of Cerny. In the Champagne the French themselves were successful aggressors, enlarging considerably their positions on both sides of Mont Carnillet and taking 120 prisoners.

The British, on their front, also are pursuing nibbling tactics. General Haig reports slight improvement of the British positions on the right bank of the Scarpe, east of Arras. New reactions by the Germans may be in preparation on Croiselles and the Scarpe, as an increased activity of their artillery in this sector is reparted.

NATIONAL GUARD GETS TRAINING IN MACHINE GUN WORK

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, O., May 26.—Officers of units of the Ohio National Guard will get training in machine-gun and target practice and in handling grenades at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, by order of the war department, it was announced from the office of Adjutant General Wood today.

Seven commissioned officers will compose the class that will start in the school May 28 and remain at Ft. Sill until August 1. Recommendations for appointment by the Central Division war department heads at Chicago were made today.

If the selection is approved, the following officers will be tutored with a view to making them instructors on the Ohio National Guard later:

Major Cliff Deming, second regiment, Ada; Major Willis Bacon, eighth regiment, Tiffin; Major F. S. Van Gorden, fifth regiment, Cleveland; Major F. D. Henderson, fourth regiment, Columbus; Major Van A. Snyder, seventh regiment, Lancaster; Major Wayne Christy, tenth regiment, Youngstown; Lieutenant Colonel W. H. Meyers, first regiment, Cincinnati.

There has been a material increase in the number of recruits for the National Guard since the president's proclamation designating June 5 registration day for the selective draft, according to Major Lawier, in charge of guard rolls. While no record was kept of the total number received during the week it is the biggest week the guard has had since recruiting begun.

Officials said today there is big demand in all units for cooks and blacksmiths.

RAIDER AT LARGE.

San Francisco, May 26.—Archdeacon B. Potter, of the Church of England, who is in charge of the provinces of Syria and Cyprus, with headquarters at Jerusalem, is here today on his way to London, having arrived by way of the Orient. He said that a few weeks ago a German raider came into Capetown, flying the Swedish flag, managed to pass the rigid inspection of the British officials and was provisioned and coaled and departed.

RE-OPEN M'LEAN WILL CASE.

Washington, May 26.—The contest over the will of the late John R. McLean, millionaire newspaper publisher of Washington and Cincinnati, was re-opened today in the local supreme court which set June 11 for the beginning of a jury trial.

EMBRYO OFFICERS AT FORT HARRISON LOOK LIKE VETERANS

United States army officers in charge of the training of the officers' reserve corps at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis, express great pleasure at the progress being made by the men. The embryo officers are already beginning to have the look of veterans, though they have been in training only since the middle of the month.

REGISTRATION FOR DRAFT IS MADE PLAIN BY THE WAR DEPARTMENT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, May 26.—In its campaign to stimulate interest in registration June 5, for the war army the war department today issued a memorandum emphasizing the seven cardinal points to be remembered, particularly by men between the ages of 21 and 30 inclusive, who will be required to register. The memorandum follows:

1. There is only one day for registration, June 5, 1917.

2. Every male resident of the United States who has reached his 21st and has not reached his 31st birthday must register on the day, June 5, 1917. The only exceptions are persons in the military or naval service of the United States which includes all officers and enlisted men of the regular army, the regular army reserve, the officers' reserve corps, the enlisted reserve corps, the national guard and national guard reserve, recognized by the militia bureau of the war department; the navy, marine corps, the coast guard and the naval militia, the naval reserve force; the marine corps reserve and the national naval volunteers, recognized by the navy department.

3. Registration is distinct from draft. No matter what just claim you have for exemption you must register.

4. Registration is a public duty. For those not responsive to the sense of this duty the penalty of imprisonment, not fine, is provided in the draft act.

5. Those who through sickness shall be unable to register should cause a representative to apply to the county or city clerk for a copy of the registration card. The clerk will give instructions as to how this card should be filled out. The card should then be mailed by the sick person or delivered by his agent to the registrar of his home district. The sick person will enclose a self addressed stamped envelope for the return to him of his registration certificate.

6. Any person who expects to be absent from his voting precinct on registration day should apply as soon as practicable for a registration card to the county clerk of the county where he may be stopping or if he is in a city of over 30,000, to the city clerk. The clerk will record the answers on the card and turn it over to the absentee. The absentee should then mail this card to the registrar of his home district so that it will reach that official by registration day. A self addressed stamped envelope should be enclosed with the card to insure the return to to the absentee of a registration certificate.

7. Registration booths will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. on registration day, June 5, 1917.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Akron, Ohio, May 26.—Five Akron autoists, three men and two women, were killed late Friday night when an Erie passenger train crashed into their machine on a grade crossing at Mantua, Ohio, near Ravenna. Two others suffered severe injuries and one is not expected to live. The dead are:

David F. Munson, 26 Stanton Avenue.

W. E. Van Horn, 1249 South Main street.

Beulah Snodgrass, Wheeling, W. Va., Akron address not known.

May Harris, waitress in an Akron restaurant.

The injured are:

H. H. Rose, 355 Kenmore Boulevard, driver of the machine, crushed and internally injured.

Jelma Jamison, Cadiz, Ohio, painfully bruised.

The young people were returning to Akron when the accident occured. When the car reached the crossing at Mantua, the driver of the machine failed to see the Erie train, speeding from the south.

The pilot of the engine struck the automobile when it was directly upon the tracks. None of the passengers had time to jump. The wreckage of the automobile, with its five victims, was carried several hundred feet down the track.

Rose and Miss Jamison were thrown clear when the automobile was hit. The crash was heard by Mantua residents who rushed to the scene.

Three of the passengers were instantly killed. The other two died at the Mantua, hotel, where they were taken. Rose and Miss Jamison were taken to the Ravenna hospital.

An investigation of the accident was started immediately after the accident by Portage County officials. A watchman was not at the crossing, it was found, and the driver had no way to know that the train was approaching.

ITALIAN STEAMER IN RUNNING FIGHT WITH SUBMARINE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, May 26.—A running battle with a submarine during which the U-boat fired one torpedo and more than a dozen sheils, some of the latter striking the vessel, was reparted here today by an Italian steamship arriving from a Mediterranean port.

The submarine came up to attack on May 3, near the island of Sardina and despite a return fire from the steamship it followed its intended victim for more than an hour. No damage of any consequence occurred to the ship and so far as known the submersible was not hit, the officers said.

INDUSTRIAL SHOW IS READY TO OPEN DOORS MONDAY

Members of the Newark Rotary club are happy, happy that their efforts to give the citizens of Licking county a wonderful exposition, are about to bear fruit.

The exposition of the Merchants and Manufacturers of the city, given under the auspices of the Rotary club, the entire proceeds for the benefit of the local chapter of the Red Cross society, will open its doors to the public next Monday evening.

It will me a revelation to the public and a credit to the hustling members of the club who were responsible for the idea. The big tabernacle building along the canal between Fifth and Sixth street has been converted into a beehive of varied industries, including displays of merchants and the products of local manufacturers.

It would be a tedious task to give a description of each individual exhibitor as there are sixty attractive booths in the building and each is a credit to those responsible for arranging the same.

Next week will be a gala one as there will be something doing every evening. The opening or dedicaton night will witness an immense crowd at the big exposition. The famous Buckeye band will give an open air concert and then march to the exposition building. From that time on every minute will be utilized in giving a program that will bring enjoyment to all.

There will be amusements galore and the committee announces a number of pleasing specialties and vaudeville acts, besides a delightful musical program.

On Thursday afternoon the Zanesville Rotarians will meet at the Clarendon Hotel in the Clay City at 3 o'clock and take cars for this city. They will be met by a reception committee and escorted to the Masonic temple, where a six o'clock dinner will be served. A parade will follow and will end at the exposition grounds. It promises to be one eventful occasion and everybody should turn out to greet the visitors.

Remember the price of admission is but ten cents and the proceeds are for a most worthy cause. The Red Cross society will undoubtedly realize a handsome sum as a result of the Rotarians hustling activities.

German Bombs Fall Among Shoppers In English Coast Town

Airplane Squadrons Make Daylight Raid, Resulting in Many Casualties and Great Damage to Shops and Residences

FALLING BOMBS GAVE FIRST WARNING OF DANGER TO HUNDREDS IN STREETS

Attacking Air Men Flew So High That They Could Not Be Seen Without Use of Strong Glasses—English Air Men Engaged Enemy and Succeded In Bringing Down Three Machines—Berlin Announces That Dover Was Scene of Raid—Second Airplane Raid Over England Within Three Days

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

A Town on the Southeast Coast of England, Friday Evening, May 25, via London, May 26.—The most ambitious airplane raid yet undertaken by the Germans on Great Britain occurred here late this afternoon while the streets were crowded with shoppers, promenaders and workers returning to their homes. The raiders dropped a large number of bombs, apparently in haphazard fashion, from a mile or two above the town, killing 76 persons, mostly women or children, and injuring nearly 175 more.

The first raider to arrive was the leader of a squadron of five. It was flying at such a height that it could not be seen against the brilliant sunlight which flooded the cloud-flecked sky, except by trained observers with good glasses. The raider was followed by the other four at a slightly lower elevation. They sailed in a bee-line across the town, dropping bombs continuously.

Many persons in the streets first learned of the air-raid when they heard explosions of bombs around them. The zone in which the bombs were dropped cut a wide swath across the city with the chief damage in the shopping and residential districts. The bombs which were of large size, demolished completely houses and small shops which they struck.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

London, May 26.—German airships to the number of about 16 raided southeast England on Friday evening, according to an official statement issued today. Seventy-six persons were killed. One hundred and seventy-four persons were injured. Three of the German airships were shot down.

Nearly all the damage occurred in one town where some bombs fell in the streets, causing considerable casualties among the civilian population.

The following report on the air raid was made by Field Marshal Viscount French:

"A large squadron of enemy aircraft—about 16—attacked southeast England between 5:15 and 6:30 o'clock last evening. Bombs were dropped at a number of places but nearly all the damage occurred in one town, where some bombs fell into the streets, causing considerable casualties among the civil population. Some shops and houses also were seriously damaged."

"The total casualties reported by the police from all districts are:

"Killed, 76; injured, 174.

"Of the killed 27 were women, and 23 were children, while 43 women and 19 children were injured.

"Airplanes of the Royal Flying Corps went in pursuit and the raiding aircraft were engaged by fighting squadrons of the Royal Air Service from Dunkirk on their return journey. The admiralty reports that three enemy airplanes were shot down by the latter."

Three hostile airplanes returning from last night's raid on England were brought down by British air forces in the English channel and off the Belgian coast, the admiralty announced. The statement says:

"Naval airplanes attacked the airdrome at St. Denis Westre, near Bruges, yesterday morning, dropping many bombs.

"In the evening several enemy aircraft returning from the raid on England were engaged over sea by Royal Naval Air Service machines. An encounter took place between one British and three hostile airplanes in mid-channel and one of the latter was destroyed. Several encounters also took place off the Belgian coast in which two large twin engined hostile machines were shot down. All our machines returned safely."

This is the second German air raid on England within three days. On Wednesday night four or five German aircraft flew over the eastern English counties and dropped a number of bombs, killing one man. For six previous months no attack on England had been made from the air following two disastrous raids in which three Zeppelins were destroyed except for the exploit of a lone airplane on May 7. This machine appeared over the outskirts of northeast London and dropped bombs which killed one man and injured a woman.

BERLIN SAYS IT WAS DOVER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Berlin, May 26, via London.—German air squadrons yesterday dropped bombs on Dover and Folkestone, says the announcement issued today by the German war department.

SPIES TELL ENEMY OF NAVY ACTIVITY SAYS ADMIRAL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, May 26.—Admiral Sims' report from London that Germany by some means learned that American destroyers were bound fo European waters at least four days before they reached Queenstown, strengthened today the government's determination to search out spies and close channels of military information which apparently still exist between the United States and Germany.

That the Queenstown harbor entrance was strewn by submarines with mines intended for the American ships was considered by officials as proof that the German information concerning the departure and destination of the boats was accurate. The seriousness of the disclosure was not greatly ameliorated by the fact that the German plan was discovered in time and the destroyers saved.

RE-DEPOSIT FUNDS.

Washington, May 26.—The treasury today began the practice of redepositing a portion of the proceeds obtained from certificates of indebtedness by placing $128,593,000 among the various banks and trust companies which subscribed to the latest offering of $200,000,000 in short-term certificates of indebtedness.

MAY ELIMINATE ALL FACTORY TAX; AUTOS ARE FREED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, May 26.—Elimination of the 5 per cent manufacturing tax on automobiles in the war tax bill as passed by the house and substitution of a license tax, at a rate yet to be fixed upon motor vehicles, payable by those having possession, was decided upon today by the senate finance committee.

The income tax section as first drawn, including the 2 per cent normal tax, and the house committee's surtaxes also were adopted by the senate committee. It struck but, however, the increased surtaxes on incomes over $40,000 added in the house on amendments by Representative Lenroot of Wisconsin.

The committee's action today in rejecting the automobile tax was said to be the fore-runner of further reductions of the five per cent taxes on special industries. Instead of the straight five per cent manufacturing tax on motor cars the committee is considering a graduated license tax ranging from $1 to $2 upon low priced cars to $10 and $20 on more costly vehicles.

NAVY USES GERMAN SHIPS.

JAPAN IS TAKING GOLD FROM UNITED STATES 200 MILLIONS A YEAR

Washington, May 26.—Treasury officials engrossed in the far-reaching program of international financing upon which this country lately has entered today turned their chief attention to the unexpected and somewhat disconcerting discovery that for the past month Japan has been withdrawing gold from the United States at the rate of $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 a year.

Gold exports to Japan within the past three or four weeks, it was stated authoritatively, have been between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000. Since January 1, they have totaled $35,000,000. In the past eight months they have reached an aggregate of about $50,000,000 Within the next 30 days, the government has been informed, they will approximate 50 per cent of the entire sum already exported in 1917

There is every indication that the big shipments will continue for several months at least, and in an increasingly large ratio Informal overtures already have been made to the government looking to the shipment from San Francisco to Japan next month of a large consignment of gold.

There's a sure way to tell a crank. When a man admits he is one, he isn't.

VOLUNTEERS WITH GUARD UNITS DO NOT ENROLL JUNE 5

All who wish to join the army voluntarily must do so before June 5, for after the registration no one between the ages of 21 and 31 will have the privilege of enlisting, so those who desire to pick a particular branch of the service must make their decision before that time.

Seven men were examined and four were accepted for enlistment in Company B, Fourth Ohio Infantry, Friday afternoon. The successful applicants were Edward L. Hook, John S. Wilson, James E. Schwock and Howard L. Grandstaff. A number of applicants were not examined because the examining officer was not expected in the city until today, so they will be held for the next examination. Ray D. Allison of Mouli street, applied for enlistment today

Capt. Kislig of Battery C, made examinations for that organization yesterday and the following were accepted: Paul R. DeNoon, Harvey D. Chandler, a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity at Denison University; John C. Goode of Newark, Walter K. Wallace, Melvin E. Fitzpatrick, Mike G. Cullnane, Jacob E Augustine and Logan E. Baker Capt. Schlegel has received word to forward no more recruits to Camp Perry at present, so these men will be held for a few days.

There seems to be a sentiment among the younger men that many of them will enlist just before the conscription registration, and many have made inquiry concerning the departments represented here by recruiting headquarters. The man who enlists either in the O. N. G. or regular army, enlists for the time of the war only. As soon as the war is over all the departments will be mustered out. All men who enlist now in the O. N. G. will not have to register June 5, according to official word received today by Lieut. Koeppel of Company B. The bulletin states:

"General Chowder, provost marshal general, has wired the governor of Ohio that men of the National Guard in state service are not obliged to register June 5, being considered as in the military service of the United States under recent call made by the secretary of war for mobilization on July 15."

Other inquiry made concerns the pay in the O. N. G., which since the declaration of war has been made identical with that of the regular army. The original pay for private was $15, to which has been added a new provision for $15 more a month, making a total of $30 a month; first-class private, $18 regular pay plus $15, making $33 a month; corporal, $21 a month regular pay plus $15, making $36 a month; sergeant, $30 a month regular pay, plus $12, making $42 a month; sergeant-major battilion and sergeant-major regiment, $40 a month regular pay, plus $8, making $48 a month; first sergeant, $45 a month regular pay, plus $6, making $51 a month.

Four men are yet to be examined for enlistment in Battery C. They are: George R. Watson, 30 North Williams street; Wilkie O. Moody of Granville, Nelson B. Evans of Lewistown, Pa., and Edward W. Brandt, 65 South Third street.

OLD GLORY FLIES OVER RECRUITING STATION TODAY

All preparations had been completed this morning for the flag raising over the recruiting booth of Company B, Fourth Ohio Infantry, and the recruiting rally held this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The members of the Old Guard with the drum corps attended and a huge flag had been secured to be placed over the booth Following the ceremonies incidental to the flag raising a number of machines bearing the members of the Old Guard and buglars and members of the Red Cross, in uniforms, will parade the various parts of the city seeking to arouse enthusiasm for enlistment. The machines will bear banners inviting all to enlist.

The recruiting officers will be in attendance with Lieutenant Col. Florence of the Fourth Ohio Infantry, and Capt. Frank L Oyler, captain of Company B of Columbus.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR EVERY LOYAL CITIZEN TO HELP

We have heard of the wonderful growth of Bethlehem Steel, of the steel mills at Gary Indiana, and hundreds of other lines of business but few of the citizens of Newark have ever known about one of the most healthy and thriving of Newark's industries. We like to read or hear of the success of other places but seldom think of some of the possibilities lying at our feet.

On another page of this paper you will read the advertisement of J. N. Pugh & Co. who are offering some of the preferred stock of the Newark Stamping and Foundry Co., a very desirable investment being offered to Newark's citizens. Now here is your opportunity to help one of Newark's industries grow and if you are inclined you can be of great assistance at this time. Think this over and then call or telephone J. N. Pugh & Co.

HOTEL CUTS DELICACIES.

MEMORIAL DAY IS MOST SERIOUS IN NATION'S LIFE

Wednesday, May 30, 1917, should be recognized as the most serious memorial day in our history," says F. G. Steele, secretary of the General Memorial committee.

"Heretofore we have treated the sentiment and significance of Memorial day as largely pertaining to events of long ago Today it is being linked with near future war clouds which are approaching with whirlwind speed, and that are already saturated with the blood of more millions of men than have been enrolled in all the wartime armies of the United States.

"During the Civil war, our records show that less than 100,000 men were killed in battle. In the fall of 1914, at the battle of Tennenberg (North Prussia), von Hindenburg, with 100,000 men, met a Russian army of 300,000 men. When the battle was closed the Russian army had lost 100,000 men in killed and wounded, and 100,000 prisoners—a loss of 25,000 more men than were engaged on both sides at Gettysburg. During the present war many campaigns have been more bloody than Tennenberg. The memorial period of 1917 should be one of more serious mediation.

"On Memorial day of this year about 1,500,000 graves of soldiers of various wars will be decorated with flowers as a tribute to their noble service.

"Every loyal citizen should feel it a duty and a privilege to have some part in the observance of the day, and everyone of us should stand firmly against using this most serious day as a holiday for sports and pleasure."

All organizations of Newark, whether they have had a written invitation or not are invited to join in the Memorial day parade around the square.

Particulars of this parade will appear in Monday's papers.

Unorganized soldiers of the Spanish and other wars, and also former members of Company G, Battery G, etc., are requested to fall in a few minutes before 9 o'clock, opposite the postoffice. Albert O'Neill will, by request, be in charge of that body.

The Grand Army and allied bodies will assemble a Memorial hall at 9:30 o'clock, Sunday morning, to march to the Second Presbyterian church. Rev. Don D. Tullis will preach the annual memorial sermon.

At 2 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, all members of the G. A. R. group are invited to take the interurban car for Hebron to take part in the memorial exercises at that place.

A NEW VOLUME ABOUT THE WAR

THE publishers of The Encyclopaedia Britannica announce that they have made arrangements for the issue, as soon after the end of the war as possible, of a new volume, containing a full and authoritative history of the war.

The new volume will be written by scholars and experts of the same high character as those who wrote for the Britannica itself, and by many of its own contributors. It will be absolutely impartial, excluding all partisan feeling and prejudice. It will contain

1. A judicial account of the real causes of the war, the progress of the struggle, and the results all over the world; with maps, as necessary, to show changes in boundaries.

2. The lives of the new leaders, whether civil, military or naval, in the belligerent countries.

3. The results of the war outside the sphere of fighting, the progress of surgery, the prevention of contagious disease, the new scientific discoveries, etc.

The new volume will bridge the gap between the days of peace before and after the war. It will be printed and bound to match the Britannica and the publishers guarantee that no matter how difficult and costly the supplementary volume may be from the editorial point of view, the price of it to all who purchase the Britannica during the present sale will not be more than that of a corresponding volume of the Britannica.

H. M. Thompson President.

IMPORTANT—PLEASE READ

AS so few sets are left of The Encyclopaedia Britannica, "Handy Volume" Issue, printed on India paper, we are obliged to state that no order can be accepted with the privilege of returning the set. Any other course would be unfair to our customers and to ourselves. It is evident that we shall receive thousands of orders in excess of the number we can fill. To take back sets from some customers after refusing, for the want of stock, the orders of others, would be manifestly unjust to those whose orders were refused. It is understood, therefore, that this order for The Encyclopaedia Britannica is not subject to our usual rule of return of goods and refund of money. We guarantee delivery in perfect condition and that The Encyclopaedia Britannica will be exactly as represented. Please bear in mind that this is the condition on which we ask you to send in your order.

The farmer is getting big money for his wheat, but only regrets that he hasn't any to sell.

These college students who are going to cultivate the soil are already well informed about Latin roots.

Stocks being dead low; the public is selling out and preparing to buy in when they get up twenty points.

Those men who are controlling the price of food feel that having a food dictator would be most unwise and wrong.

Under a press censorship, the newspapers would no doubt be permitted to print enthusiastic eulogies of the way the war is being run.

The sun has only to stand still about three years to vindicate Brother Bryan's claim that a million men would spring to arms over night.

When you hear a man predicting that all this amateur gardening will amount to nothing, it is quite possible that he has food products to sell.

It is surprising what a respectful hearing a newspaper publisher gets at Washington on the paper question, if he lives in a doubtful district.

It is reported that the Germans still have a small force of night watchmen on the eastern front to hold the 2,000,000 Russian army in check.

It is predicted that wooden shoes will come into use and if so the people who are late at church and the theatres will no doubt take pains to wear them.

After denouncing the foreign plotters who are working among us, some of our wealthy men proceed to get together to organize a corner in foodstuffs.

After condemning the slackers who won't enlist, some men will refuse to buy a Liberty bond because it pays one per cent less than their other investments.

Much instruction is given about the art of marketing now, but the principal art seems to be to have a little more money in your purse than you did the day before.

The suggestion to present every Licking county soldier and sailor boy with an identification badge or medal is not met with a single objection so far as known. Already the cash is coming in.

If you wish to arouse the enthusiastic admiration of your neighbors, put on some disreputable clothes that a tramp would be ashamed to be found dead in, pick out the most conspicuous corner of your lawn, and plant a garden.

While the pessimists are explaining to the neighbors the impossibility of running a garden on account of the insect pests, the optimists have been down to the grocery store and secured a complete supply of bug poison.

Next week promises to be a great week in Newark. The Exposition under the auspices of the Rotary club, will open Monday evening and continue every night during the week with "matinees" Wednesday and Saturday. It will be a worthwhile show and the proceeds go to the War Relief Fund. The tenth part of a dollar, a dime, ten cents, will admit you.

SLUGGISH STUDENTS.

A teacher was speaking the other day of her experience in different towns where she had had positions. She found it very hard to account for the different temper prevailing in different schools.

In some she said the pupils seemed to have a prejudice against the idea of study, particularly the boys. It was not merely that they were lazy about it. They regarded it in a way as discreditable, according to their standards. It showed willingness to submit tamely to the tyranny of teachers, school boards, and parents. Why should they study when such important business as baseball and fishing and other sports demanded their attention?

A refusal to bury their heads in dry books was manly and showed their own resolute independence. It is evident that in places where that spirit prevails, the pupils make very poor progress. They will hardly cover half the work that would be taken in an equal time by a willing and studious class.

In other places the sentiment of the pupils is much more favorable to study. Of course there are laggards, but they do not control the feeling of the school. The pupils as a whole make a sincere effort to learn.

Boys in the high school and upper grades ought to be old enough to realize that their work is of vital importance to their own future. They cannot acquire the things they want, cannot even have a good time in life, unless they get good positions, unless they become efficient workers and succeed in whatever business they undertake. To reach any degree of success, they simply must learn what the schools have to teach. The teachers are their friends, trying to help them get the things in life they want or will soon want.

FIRST AUTOMOBILE.

About now the voice of the automobile demonstrator is heard in the ear of the prospect. By some mysterious means he learns that Smith or Jones has a case of automobile fever. Smith and Jones had never consciously revealed their weakness. Indeed in all their conversations, they had dwelt on the extravagances of the automobile habit. They extolled the pleasures and benefits of walking.

The prospective victim begins just by chance to drop into the automobile show in some distant city. He hangs around his neighbor's garage, and asks many questions. Pretty soon someone has tipped off the selling agency.

The prospective purchaser of a first automobile is very apt to figure that it won't increase his expenses much. He will save it somewhere else. Vacations can be cut down, a servant can be dismissed, and family expenses for clothing can be reduced. But these hopes are apt to prove illusory.

When a man buys his first automobile, under the skilled hand of the demonstrator, a very cheap machine can be made to appear a chariot of luxury. As he learns to drive, he soon finds defects that were covered up by his own ignorance. After a year of the cheaper car, he simply must have a more expensive one.

And yet there are tens of thousands of people who succeed in running automobiles without great expense. They shrewdly wait until some second-hand car comes within their reach. They buy it at the end of the season, and avoid a heavy depreciation charge. They put up portable garages and save fees, and at the close of the year their costs have not exceeded those of keeping a horse and carriage. It can be done.

AVIATION SERVICE.

Many people call this a decadent age in which the desire for money-making is predominant. Yet the willingness of great numbers of young men to enlist in the aviation service doesn't look like it. These candidates for air plane work are no mere dare devils, fellows who have been used to rough life and knocking about in all sorts of perils.

A great many of them are young men from families of wealth who have always been shielded and protected. Their families look forward with dread to their undertaking our work. Yet its hazards do not daunt thousands of these fellows who are not merely patriotic, but who enjoy bold and courageous courses of action.

The air planes are greatly improved mechanically now, and if correctly handled they are not so risky as people think. Many accidents occure through no fault of the machines, but because the pilots take chances which they know to be hazardous. They are to be honored, however, for this patriotic spirit of daring, as it is the stuff out of which wars are won.

NOT "FOR," BUT "WITH."

The absurd notion is entertained by some people that the United States is in this war to save England and occasionally is heard the inquiry "why should we give our men and our money to help Great Britain?"

It should be clearly understood by everybody that the United States is in this war for one purpose which was aptly expressed by the President that "the world must be made safe for democracy." It is folly to talk of our fighting for England or for Russia or for France. We are fighting WITH, not FOR the Allies.

Yesterday's dispatches told of the arrival of the first detachment of United States engineers in Great Britain, already the Flag is in France and soon greater numbers of our boys will go to the front for Old Glory.

The purpose of the report that America is in this war to aid England and France is to discourage subscriptions to the Liberty Loan, to retard enlistments but it is time for every American to awaken to the fact that the United States is in this struggle with all its might and all its resources that under no circumstances will this government withdraw from its announced purpose until the object we are fighting for is attained.

The trouble with the Russian workmen under the new regime seems to be that they have only been given six holidays a week.

NATION'S "SOLEMN HOUR."

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

Future American historians will cite June 5, 1917, as one of the turning points in the story of the republic. Upon that date American democracy is to make the first appraisal of its manhood strength. For the first time since the government was founded Americans of the chosen military age are to enroll themselves for service under the flag.

The governor of Ohio proclaims the fifth day of June as a holiday throughout the commonwealth. He urges that business be suspended, that schools close, that places of amusement be not opened and that all activities, "save the line of continuous operation, halt in sacred observance of a solemn hour."

Steps have already been taken in Cleveland to observe the day in the manner and spirit the governor recommends. There is no reason to doubt that communities over the state generally will fall in line.

Let us make the day a gala occasion—a sort of anticipatory Independence day. While the young men of the land are attending the polls and pledging their allegiance to the nation, putting themselves in line for whatever service the government may deem wisest; let the rest of us pay them the tribute of respect and appreciation that is their due.

Governor Cox's proclamation is in perfect accord with the purpose of the act of congress which authorizes the registration. It does not overstate the solemnity of the occasion. It does not exaggerate the significance of the patriotic task in which we are to engage. * * *

Did You Know—

That there is a fungus called the vinegar plant? It may be produced thus: A solution of a quarter of a pound of sugar and half a pound of molasses in three quarts of water is first simmered, then poured into a jar, covered up, and kept in a warm place for six weeks. The liquid becomes vinegar and on the top there has been formed a scum-like fungus which is the vinegar plant. By adding a piece of this to a similar solution, the process of conversion into vinegar takes place in much less time. In Great Britain vinegar is manufactured on a large scale by the fermentation of malt. On the continent of Europe it is largely made from low wines. In America much of it is made from cider. Vinegar is a form of acetic acid made by the fermentation of vegetable substances.

CENSORSHIP.

(Philadelphia Record.)

President Wilson insists that congress pass the bill regulating the conduct of newspapers during the war just as he insisted that congress pass the bill making it compulsory for the men between the ages of 21 and 31 to enroll on a certain day so that they might be, if necessary, be called to fight for their country. If you should be foolish enough to depend upon certain newspapers which see nothing but stupidity in every act of the President, you naturally have the idea that Mr. Wilson is trying to put a gag on the press of the country in insisting upon the measure providing for the censorship of news during the war. The proposition of President Wilson is contained in the bill he favors as follows:

"In time of war the President is hereby authorized to prescribe and promulgate rules and regulations for the purpose of preventing the disclosure to the public, and thereby to the enemy, of information with respect to the movement, numbers, description and disposition of any of the armed forces of the United States in naval or military operations, or with respect to any works intended for the fortification or defense of any place; and whoever, in time of war, shall wilfully violate any such rule or regulation shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000, or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

"Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed to limit or restrict, nor shall any regulation herein provided for limit or restrict, and discussion, comment or criticism of the acts or policies of the government or its representatives or the publication of the same."

Just why any one in or out of congress or in any newspaper office should object to this we cannot understand. Those who do object to it, whether they be congressmen, senators or newspaper editors, may pretend to have some good reason for it, but they will have difficulty in proving it to the satisfaction of honest men and women.

NO ROOSEVELT DIVISIONS.

(Chicago Tribune.)

President Wilson in finding it impossible to accept Col. Roosevelt's offer to raise two volunteer divisions and take the American colors directly to France has decided wisely, we think.

The president gives the reasons for his decision so adequately that the case is fully stated. We have entered the war to conduct it efficiently and coolly. There would be no excuse for the United States if it did not do so.

We are not entering upon an enterprise in which men are without experience, but are engaging in one in which people have learned by very bitter experience.

The Roosevelt divisions could not have been efficient. They might have been romantic, but they could not have been efficient. Col. Roosevelt hoped to raise them in a hurry, train them in a hurry, and put them in action in a hurry. We fear they would have been killed or defeated in a hurry.

A tremendous amount of enthusiasm might have been aroused in the country by the colonel's recruiting fervor and by the thought of these volunteers sailing to France. But that enthusiasm would not win a mile of trench for the colonel's volunteers, and a disaster to untrained troops might have been depressing to this nation and its allies and stimulating to our enemies.

Instead of commissioning Col. Roosevelt to lead men who have been long out of service or who never have been in it the president is sending a division of the best troops the United States has. They may not be able to do a great deal, being so few men in the great armies of our allies, but they will do the best that Americans can do just now because they are the best men America can furnish just now. That is a much wiser thing to do than to send untrained troops to do less than the United States can do now.

Spirit of the Press

Pension Morals.

A New York woman who has been drawing a $300 pension from the city for 10 years, as a widowed mother of a fireman, has written to the fire commissioner saying that she doesn't need the money any more, and wants the pension discontinued. "That woman is honest and a patriot," declared the commissioner when he recovered from the shock. She is, indeed!—Montana Record-Herald.

Mob Savagery in Tennessee.

While we are so critical of the nations known as our enemies it is morally disconcerting to have staged in America such mad savagery as the latest burning to death of of a negro by a mob in Tennessee. The negro was clearly guilty, it seems, of the fiendish murder of a white girl, but retaliation in fiendishness gets us nowhere in correcting or even punishing a criminal class. When race feeling is involved it is impossible to conceive of anything so disastrous in its ultimate effects as the treatment which mobs occasionally give to these black men. At a time when Americans need to show real capacity for mass discipline and respect for authority, we are forced to contemplate these hideous spectacles of mass brutishness and social anarchy. —Springfield Republican.

In Grim Earnestness.

The whole world, including Germany, must by this time be impressed with America's earnestness and seriousness. There can be no doubt that we are to put into effect the policy urged by the President in his recent address to congress, which is to cooperate with the entente allies to the fullest possible extent. With the conscription law now in effect, and with a division of American regulars preparing for service in France, the war which, for us, has been on ever since the declaration of congress, is now a grim reality. Failure of this State to do her part would be disloyalty, and in war disloyalty is treason.—Columbia, S. C. Record.

DADDY'S BEDTIME STORY

Baby Storks Had a Lesson

[Adapted from Hans Christian Andersen.]

WHEN the children stopped giggling daddy began the bedtime story: "When some bad boys sang cruel songs to a nestful of baby storks, of course they were afraid. 'Will they really hurt us?' they kept asking their mother.

"'No; certainly not!' said their mother. 'You are to learn to fly when you grow strong. See if I don't drill you! Then we will go into the fields and visit the frogs. They are delightful. They courtesy to us in the water and sing "Ko-ax, ko-ax!" and then we will gobble them up.'

"'What will we do then?' asked the baby storks, still afraid.

"'Oh, then all the storks in the country meet for autumn maneuvers. You will all have to fly your best, for the one who cannot fly will be pierced by the general's beak. So you must all take good care to learn something when the drill begins.'

"'If we are to be pierced by the general's beak, then it will be just as the bad boys say,' replied the little storks.

"'Listen to me and not to the boys!' commanded their mother. 'You will not be pierced if you fly properly, and after the grand maneuvers we shall fly to the warm countries. They are ever so far off, over woods and mountains. We will go to Egypt, where the houses are three cornered and have peaks that reach up into the clouds. These peaks are delightful spots for storks to perch upon. These strange houses are called the pyramids, and they are much older than any stork can possibly imagine. In Egypt is also a river that overflows its banks and all the year around runs to mud. You may walk about in mud and devour frogs to your heart's content.'

"'Oh!' piped the baby storks, much happier.

"'Yes; it will be splendid. In Egypt all you have to do is to eat all day long, and while we are so well off there, in this country there is not a leaf on the trees all winter. It is so cold here that the clouds freeze all to pieces and fall down in little bits.'

"Of course Mother Stork meant it snowed, but she did not know how to describe it any better.

"'Will those naughty boys freeze to pieces, too?' asked the baby storks.

"'No; they will not freeze quite to pieces. But while all of you are walking about in the warm mud, eating young frogs, the naughty boys will almost freeze. They will be so cold here that they will sit moping about in dark rooms all day, while you will be flying about in warm countries, learning nice geography lessons and playing in the sunshine among flowers.'"

Milady's Boudoir

For Too Stout Shoulders.

If your shoulders are too fat vigorous massage will help to reduce them, but special exercises are even more necessary. An exercise which will pull the flesh off the shoulders in a most satisfactory manner is as follows: Stand with the heels together, toes and chest out, shoulders dropped, chin up. Now raise the left arm above the head and stretch the right arm down, as if both were attempting to touch something just out of reach. Keep palms out and little finger of right hand touching the leg.

Now bring up the right arm in a semicircle above the head and at the same time swing the left arm down in a semicircle, until the little finger touches the leg, stretching both arms as far as possible. Alternate and continue for five minutes twice a day.

Another exercise which will dispose of fatty deposits on shoulders and back is as follows: Stand with heels together, hands clinched at sides, begin to draw in a deep breath while bringing arms to shoulders with a quick vigorous motion. Without pausing stretch them to full length above the head. Now begin to exhale while bringing the arms down to the shoulders next at full length to the sides. Each movement of the arms should be as if intended for a blow.

If your shoulders are beautifully rounded soft chiffon, crepe or lace gowns which slip carelessly off the shoulders, are extremely fetching, but beware of this method of gowning if there is the slightest squareness of line to your shoulders. In most cases the drapery must come well with the lines of the angle to soften it.

Our Boys and Girls

Did you ever notice that your child likes to watch his shadow and play with it? All children do this naturally and it should be encouraged. Use this as a help to get the children to bed with smiles on their lips, instead of tears in their eyes. In this way the child is learning by playing with his shadow, that the dark has no terrors.

The finest of all bedtime plays are shadow plays. All fathers and mothers can easily make a duck, swan, rabbit or pig with the fingers and throw the shadow on the wall. I have found this of unending interest to my little tots and have had them imitate me and create shapes themselves. Their bedtime by this device became a pleasure, and I am sure this plan can be followed where many times others fail.

Tullis will speak, Mrs. Frank Johnson and Mrs. Wilson Hawkins will preside and will represent the association spirit of light, from whom the leaders of the clubs will receive their light and thence pass it on to the girls, who in turn carry it out into the world. There will be special musical numbers under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Sprague.

On Tuesday evening of this week, the twenty-three members of the First Aid who registered for examination successfully went through this ordeal, under the direction of Drs. That itching, burning skin-trouble which keeps you scratching and digging, is a source of embarrassment, as well as of torment to you. Why don't you get rid of it by using Resinol Ointment? Obituary

Mrs. Henry's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Geo. Henry, will be held on Monday afternoon, 1:30 p. m. at the U. B. church, Rev. Cox officiating.

In Memory of the Children of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cochran.

When the early flush of morning
Tints the sky with palest rose,
And when evening shadows hover
O'er the earth in sweet repose,
When the blazing sun at noon-tide
Bathes the world with brightest light,
Then I miss my children's faces,
With their smiles and laughter bright.

There was Roxy, Guy and Helen,
Baby Maud with hearts so true;
Each loved mother with a tenderness
That none but mother knew;
Yet I had to give my children
To the Father of us all,
But I know we all shall meet again,
At the last great bugle call.

But the heart-aches, and the loneliness!
When through each weary day and night,
I think of their graves mid sun and rain,
Where the grass waves soft and light.
They cannot know the sobs and tears,
That through their absence fall,
But I know they're with Him who gives and takes,
The Father of us all.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Winning Long Life.

A recent investigation made to find out what class of men live the longest revealed the fact that clergymen live longer than other men. Monell Sayre, who made the investigation, attributes the longevity of clergymen to their simple life and says that the extra years which the clergy accumulate are the results of clean personal lives—lives of sacrifice and abstemiousness.

Moderation is now considered the salvation of this life. A splendid rule for attaining longevity is summed up by the United States public health service in the following curt statements:

"Other things being equal, it is the man who leads the well balanced life who lasts the longest, whose work to the end is uniformly the best; he who neither overworks nor overplays, neither overeats, overdrinks nor oversleeps; he who maintains a standard of simple, healthy diet in moderation; who offsets mental work with physical recreation; who is as honest with his own body as he is with his own business. When success comes to such a one his physical and mental condition is such that he can enjoy in peace of mind and contentment of body the fruits of his labors."

Selling a Pair of Shoes.

I spent a couple of hours the other day in a shoe factory.

"These," said the head of the firm, pointing to a dainty pair of boots, "we sell wholesale at $10."

"What does the customer pay for them in a store?" I inquired.

"Sometimes not less than $20," he replied.

So it appears to cost as much to sell a shoe as to make a shoe.

The farmer who raised the calf that yielded the skin, the butcher who removed the hide, the tanner who converted it into leather, the railroad which hauled it 2,000 miles and the factory which carefully made the leather into a shoe, together split fifty-fifty with the exclusive shop which retails it to your wife.—Girard in Philadelphia Ledger.

Rio Janeiro, May 25.—(Friday, Delayed in Transmission).—The Brazilian government, having received an official report on the torpedoing and sinking of the Brazilian steamship Tijuca, off the coast of Brittany, May 20, by a German submarine, is preparing a message on the subject which will be sent immediately to congress.

Granville

[Special to The Advocate]

Granville, May 26.—The prospects for the carnival are decidedly drab and disappointing. In case of rain, the pageant can be held in the gymnasium, without losing any of the effectiveness save that of its beautiful out door setting.

The reception given by the Social Union in the parlors of the Baptist church last night was a pronounced success. Given as a farewell to Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Goodell, who leave soon for Franklin College, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Tilbe who are to return to Burma; Mr. and Mrs. Oxreider who return to Bengal-Orissa, and Rev. and Mrs. Moody, who return to Africa, the spirit of good fellowship prevailed. From 7 to 8 the honor guests received their friends, from 8 to 9 a pleasing program occupied attention. A double quartet from the Women's Music Club sang in opening a charming spring cycle by Mabel Daniels. On a large screen pictures of Granville were projected, then views of Fanklin College and the new home of the Goodells; views of Africa were used on the screen, and an interesting collection of curios from the Orient were exhibited by Mrs. Tilbe, and Mr. and Mrs. Oxreider. A double quartet directed by Mrs. Ullman, sang in closing the Centennial hymn, "Oh Village in the Valley."

The Shepardson Glee Club officers for the coming year have been elected as follows: Director, Madeleine Edgerly; accompanist, Laura Price; Secretary, Lois Lockhart; treasurer, Dorothy Cheney; business manager, Ruth Eldridge. This year's club has enjoyed a large measure of success both artistically and financially. They will sing next Tuesday night in Newark under the auspices of the Rotary club, in the Bromley tabernacle.

Dayton probably boasts of a greater number of Denison alumni than can any other city in the country. And still it sends new material. Yesterday about thirty young people of Dayton, who are to finish high school this spring, motored to Granville for the carnival festivities this afternoon, and are spending the week-end as guests of the college.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eldridge of Franklin, are in Granville for the week-end.

Mrs. Kate Amos Barker of Cambridge, is the guest of Miss M. E. Penney for a few days.

Mrs. Henry Stout of Dayton, who was formerly Miss Roy Sanford of Shepardson College, is a Granville visitor for the week-end. She was accompanied by her son Henry, a Sigma Chi Alumnus, and two daughters.

Beta Theta Pi has opened Curtis hall for a week-end house party for the mothers.

At the meetings of the Northern Baptist convention held in Cleveland, the number of Denison alumni in attendance is worthy of passing mention. Groups of college alumni were assigned to the different hotels by the committee on entertainments. For instance: Seventy-five Shurtleff, seventy-five Colgate, and seventy-five Denison men to the same hostelry. Two from Shurtleff, one from Colgate, and 225 from Denison registered at that hotel.

The usual morning services will be held at the Presbyterian church, Sunday, at 10 o'clock. At 7 o'clock there will be union memorial services with sermon by the pastor, Rev. E. D. Barnes.

At the Baptist church the pastor, Rev. Willard Breisford, will speak at the morning services on "Baptists, and the Duty of the Hours.," a sermon suggested by the recent meeting of the Northern Baptist convention in Cleveland. In the evening the church will join in the union memorial services in the Presbyterian church.

In the Methodist church, at 10 a. m., the annual thankoffering services of the Women's Foreign Mission society will be held, Mrs. H. H. Tilbe, a returned missionary from Rangoon, India, will speak. At 7 o'clock the union memorial services at the Presbyterian church.

The remaining organ recitals of the conservatory series will be given on the following dates:

May 28, at 6:30 p. m.—Miss Hara Reel, assisted by Miss Ruth Kastla, soprano.

May 31, at 4:30 p. m.—Miss Margaret Marshall, assisted by Miss Vashti Jones, soprano.

June 4, at 6:30—Mr. William Vogel, assisted by Mr. Harry Mathias, pianist.

MEMORIAL DAY IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS OBSERVED FRIDAY

The various schools in city participated in the memorial exercises on Friday afternoon, a celebration preliminary to the celebration of Memorial Day, May 30.

The different schools were visited by speakers, representatives of the Old Guard and the W. R. C. Patriotic address were given and the school children had been drilled in the singing of patriotic airs.

Especially appealing were the exercises held by the students of the Newark High school in the auditorium of the school, which were attended by a large audience.

If You Want Beautiful Hair

Do not use cheap soap or cheaply prepared shampoos if you want to keep your scalp clean and the hair soft and beautiful.

Use Kreamol Shampoo

A small amount, only one or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly.

Simply moisten the hair with water, rub in a little of Kreamol, massage well and then rinse in clean water. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and removes the dust, dirt and dandruff.

Kreamol makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather

It brings out the life and lustre of the hair and keeps it soft and luxuriant.

You can get Kreamol at almost any drug store. A 50-cent bottle should last a family many weeks. Get a bottle of Kreamol today and try it. You will be more than pleased.

Kreamol is sold at Evans' Drug Store (Warden Hotel Block), Newark, Ohio, and Ullman's Drug Store, Granville, Ohio.

What Ohio Club Women Are Doing

Mrs. Prentice E. Rood, Director of Press.

The club year has reached its close and regular sessions have given place to luncheons and final festivities. However very many organizations will meet with more or less regularity for the purpose of doing Red Cross work or preparatory work for service during the war.

It would be well for every president to ask herself a few questions, and discover if she has left undone any of the duties expected of her as the head of a federated club. Is your loan scholarship obligation taken care of for the year. Have you reported the activities of Baby Week to the chairman, Dr. Josephine L. Peirce? Are all your dues paid to the state and the General Federation, if you belong to that organization?

Have you answered the letter sent out by the chairman of the nominating committee? Have you anwered all the letters bearing upon club work?

If you have done all these things, you are entitled to the respite from duty which the club year has imposed upon you. If you have not done them, better get busy at once, and have a clear conscience with which to enjoy your summer vacation.

This is the final issue of publicity, but it will be resumed the first week in October when important announcements concerning the convention at Akron will appear.

Council of National Defense.

The woman's committee of the council of national defense was appointed on April 21, 1917, by the council of national defense for the purpose of coordinating the organized forces of the women of the country in order to secure greater efficiency in defense work for the nation.

Each state will have a sub committee of this national committee made up of the president or a representative from each organization of women willing to co-operate.

These state divisions are advised to divide the work into departments with a competent chief for each department.

The following departments are suggested as those which will probably prove necessary to co-ordinate the work of the women of the state.

1. Organization of the state (the elected officers should take charge of this).
2. Finance.
3. Resignation for service.
4. Home relief.
5. Allied relief.
6. Production, Conservation and Thrift.
7. Educational propaganda.
8. Protection of women workers, wages, hours and conditions.
9. Conservation of the health and welfare of children.
10. Medical section.
11. Course of instruction.
   a. Current events concerning women's war work.
   b. Training classes in work for which the state furnishes a demand such as motor service, wireless telegraphy, etc.
12. Conservation of moral and spiritual forces of the nation.

All work that comes properly under the Red Cross shall be referred thereto.

In view of the fact that the government expects to supervise a complete registration for service of the women of the country, the plan of the emergency committee of the General Federation of the council meeting in New Orleans has been set aside.

The pledge which appeared (or should have appeared) in your local paper and in the Ohio Woman is being signed by thousands of club-women all over the country. Have you signed it and sent it to Mrs. Charles L. Halter, Fremont? If not do so at once. Let us put the Ohio Federation in the front rank where requests of this nature always find her. If you do not know about this pledge, ask your editor to publish it. He has a copy.

Baby Week in Ohio.

The celebration of Baby Week throughout Ohio was very generally observed under the immediate supervision of the women's clubs. Now the important thing is to report the activities of your community AT ONCE to the chairman, Dr. Josephine L. Peirce, of Lima. Unless you do this, just that much credit will be lost, and our state may again fall below the required standard to be placed in the area of complete birth registration.

The week in Toledo, was under the immediate supervision of the city's Division of Health and the District Nurse association. Club women co-operated in furnishing automobiles to take babies and their mothers to and from clinics.

Dr. Selby, Toledo's Commissioner of Health is much interested in the enforcement of the law requiring the registration of the birth of every child. Every Toledo mother will receive within 30 days after the birth of her child a certificate in case that birth is properly registered.

There is a law in Ohio providing that every physician, midwife or attendant at a birth shall send to the local registrar a certificate giving the names of the parents, their nationality, color, place of birth and sex of child. In the event this certificate is not sent in by the attending physician or attendant it should be done by the father. A penalty for not doing this is $200.

The worry incident to moving from one home to another is always dreaded by the housewife. It is not pleasant task at any time. Especially is it disagreeable when the weather is bad. Wall Street.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, May 26.—Business at the beginning of the week-end session was less active, because of the absence of many traders. The market yielded little of its recent gains, however, United States Steel again claiming leadership at the new maximum of 134¼, an overnight gain of ⅝. Independent steels and the prominent equipments and coppers also advanced from fractions to over a point, equal gains being registered by shippings, Texas Co. advanced 3 points and General Motors 2¾. Rails moved within narrow limits on virtually small dealings. Specialties were featured by Corn Products which rose a point on heavy accumulation.

Trading during the day's short session was attended by further activity and a fair average of higher prices in all stocks except rails. United States Steel more than maintained its record of recent days, advancing 1¼ points to the new maximum of 131⅞ from which it reacted almost a point. Other shares of the same class rose 2 to 4 points with prominent equipments and munitions. The motors were higher by 2 to over 5 points and Texas Co. rose 5. Coppers added to advances of the past few days. Specialties were represented by Industrial Alcohol, Corn Products and South Porto Rico Sugar, the latter rising 25 points to 200. Prices eased for the most part toward the end, renewed weakness of rubles inducing moderate selling. The closing was strong. Sales were estimated at 750,000 shares. Bonds were irregular.

Chicago Grain.

Chicago, May 26.—Week-end evening up of trades lifted the wheat market today after an early decline. Opening quotations which ranged from ½ to 2c lower, with July at 2.17 and September at 188 were followed by an upturn all around to well above yesterday's finish.

The close was heavy, 4 cents to 6½ cents net lower with July at 2.11 and September at 1.84.

Bearish crop prospects made the corn market average lower; demand, however, was active and there was a big general trade. After opening unchanged to 2 cents higher, the market underwent a decided sag.

The close was weak at 3¾ cents to 6 cents net decline.

Oats dealers took their cue largely from corn.

Provisions reflected the firmness of the hog market. Scarcity of hog receipts next week was predicted.

Heredity.

"Father!"

"Well, son, what is it now?"

"I want to ask you an important question."

"Fire ahead, boy; I shan't be offended at what you ask."

"Thank you. I want to ask why you are so old fashioned in your ideas?"

"I suppose it's heredity. I remember asking my own father that very same question."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The scarcity of flour may explain the fact that it's the absence of dough that makes a fellow crusty.

GIRLS CARRY OLD GLORY THROUGH THE STREETS OF ST. PAUL

"Liberty Loan" girls carrying huge American flag through St. Paul streets.

To stimulate the purchase of Liberty Loan bonds St. Paul recently staged a demonstration which Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, who was present, declared to be the "greatest patriotic demonstration staged in the United States since the war began." Among other things there was a big parade, the most striking feature of which was the carrying of a huge American flag by more than thirty "Liberty Loan" girls, each of whom had a big flag draped about her shoulders.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

Karl Kaiser who met death a week ago was a member of the Intermediate B class last year. The members extend sympathy to the parents and brothers and sisters.

A booth has been provided at the industrial exhibit at the tabernacle for the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Pictures of the work and folders will be kept in this booth and persons will be in charge who will be able to answer questions about the work of these two organizations.

After two days work the men in charge of the campaign for war work funds reported $3503. These men will continue to see persons until the $4000 mark is passed. These pledges will be forwarded to Fred W. Ramsey, treasurer, Cleveland. Any persons who wish to contribute to this cause may get pledge cards at the Y. M. C. A. office.

The Juniors played the East End boys at base ball last Saturday afternoon. The score was 10 to 2 in favor of the Juniors.

There are 28 boys now signed up for the boys camp. Each boy pays $4.00 for his share of the camp fund. Chas. Allen, physical director, will be in charge of the camp. Ralph Stowell, Don Power, John Kilpatrick and Francis Moran will assist as leaders.

The tennis courts, shower baths, and swimming pool are in demand as the summer comes on. A special membership rate is charged so that those who wish these privileges may secure them alone.

Several of the old boys who have been away in college the past year have been in lately to greet the boys. Among them are Fred Jones, Warren Weiant, Jr., Herschel Stephan, and Gaylord Mercer.

WOMANHOOD

The Master Drama That Has Awaken America

The eyes of the thoughtless are opened, the voice of the Pacifist is silenced, by the awe-inspiring lesson of a Photo-Drama that will thrill and inspire the American people.

"WOMANHOOD

THE GLORY OF THE NATION"

By J. STUART BLACKTON and CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY, featuring

And an All-Star Vitagraph Cast

Including PEGGY HYLAND, JAMES MORRISON, NAOMI CHILDERS, JOSEPH KILGOUR, MARY MAURICE, WALTER McGRAIL, TEMPLAR SAXE, EDWARD ELKAS AND BOBBY CONNELLY.

"Womanhood" is the supreme revelation of three noblest passions in a woman's life.

Rightly called "The Love Epic of the Screen," it depicts the love of a maid for a man, the love of a mother for her child, and the love of a woman for her country.

So vivid is the story—so gripping is the intensity of the action—that it conveys to the mind and heart emotions so vital and thoughts so powerful that its presentation will leave its indelible impress on your memory.

"Womanhood" is the film of the hour.

At a time when the big world movements are converging to a greater democracy, this highly dramatic spectacle will be a moulder of sentiment of the country, an inspirer to the people, and perhaps the mightiest force to strike home the imperative needs of the moment.

AUDITORIUM.
"The Yellow Jacket."

Mr. and Mrs. Coburn and their delightful company is giving a matinee this afternoon at the Auditorium to a fairly good house. This company will also present "The Yellow Jacket" this evening and from the looks of the advance sale of seats a good house will be entertained this evening.

This romantic comedy has become a classic, many of the schools and colleges use it for study. It is a Chinese play done in English—a romance of the celestial land. Mr. Coburn is seen in that character of humor and irony. "Chorus" and with him is seen Mrs. Coburn and 25 associated artists. A special oriental orchestra will interpret the fantastic musical score, composed by William Furst. "The Yellow Jacket" is one of the exquisite treats of the closing season and Manager Fenberg is to be congratulated on bringing Mr. and Mrs. Coburn to Newark.

Sunday's Program.

Fenberg again has arranged a most extraordinary program for his Sunday crowds at the Auditorium, for in Virginia Pearson, the clever Fox leading lady who will be seen in "A Royal Romance" together with Irving Cummings, known to many in Newark. "A Royal Romance" is a very difficult film to describe. The synopsis, limited as it is to mere words, cannot show the charm of the picture. It can tell the amusing and thrilling story of the adventures of the Princess and the Emperor, but it cannot portray the delightful spirit of the drama. But it is truly a picture for every one, young and old. The plot and its development are so pure the film is positively sweet and its innocence delightful. It is the typification of entertainment. Brain-tired folks will find in it true relaxation. They will breathe the balmy air of semi-tropical climes and the cool brisk mountain breezes. They will wander through palaces and hobnob with those interesting and romantic, though fast passing characters, Emperors and Princesses. As an extra added feature "Fatty" Arbuckle will be seen in his second Paramount comedy, "A Reckless Romeo," a smashing two reel comedy. A comedy that will make even "dyed-in-the-wool" film fans laugh. Fatty plays the part of a dutiful young husband and in visiting the park he writes a card and wants to hand it to the Stork, saying, "Won't you come over to my house." As he starts to hand it to this animal his wige catches him—oh, well, you better see the picture yourself. The singer tomorrow is the famous masked beauty, who created so much comment and talk several weeks ago. She will be heard unmasked tomorrow, singing two of the latest song hits. The program tomorrow is one that will please all. The music as usual demands special mention, as Prof. Guy Risher has arranged a special program.

At the Auditorium.

"A Reckless Romeo."

For Monday Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle is held over in his latest Paramount comedy, "A Reckless Romeo," said to be full of laughs from the start of the first reel until the end of the second.

"Womanhood."

Manager Fenberg of the Auditorium, always on the lookout for features that will please his patrons, has at great expense arranged a patriotic feature for his theatre for Decoration Day and the two days following in J. Stuart Blackton's soul-stirring production, "Womanhood, the Glory of the Nation," by J. Stuart Blackton and Cyrus Townsend Brady, in which Alice Joyce and Harry Morey are featured and in the cast are found Peggy Hyland, James Morrison, Naomi Childers, Joseph Kilgour, Mary Maurice, Walter McGrail, Templar Saxe, Edward Elkas, Bobby Connelly and others. It is a most timely subject and not since the marvelous exhibition on Black Tom island in New York bay has the countryside along the north shore of Staten Island reverberated with such terrific concussions as when this picture staged its military scenes. The islanders turned out en masse to watch the sham battle of battle. They are told that Americans, treated as a community, who have any semblance of news sense cannot help but be interested in the picture. Jack Stanton, a wealthy young American, makes a wager with Lord Fitzgerald that he can reach Mecca, the forbidden city, and return without aid from any Christian. He arrives at Damascus and finds Fitzgerald's daughter, now of age, living in the care of a presumed step-mother, who contracts with a rich diamond merchant to deliver her to him as his wife. The wedding takes place, but after the young wife threatens to kill him, he divorces her. Later he wants her back. To conform with the customs, Stanton is secured as a go-between, but when the ceremony is performed he refuses to divorce her.

At the Grand.

ALHAMBRA.
Tonight.

Essanay has produced "The Prince of Graustark" as a five-act photoplay. It is released through Kleine-Edison-Selig-Essanay service.

This is the sequel to George Barr McCutcheon's famous "Graustark," produced in six acts by Essanay, and the most popular picture of this length ever constructed.

Monday and Tuesday.

Margaret Illington, the distinguished star of the speaking stage, will make her first appearance on the screen in the Lasky-Paramount production of Charles Kenyon's gripping and vivid story, "Sacrifice." For her first production Miss Illington was assigned a task of unusual difficulty even for artists of great screen experience—that of playing a dual role. Miss Illington is seen as the daughter of a man high up in diplomatic circles and also as a notorious dancer.

GEM.
Sunday.

Absolutely different from anything ever before seen in America is "The Masque of Life" playing at the Gem theatre Sunday and Monday. In it is displayed once again the superior art of the Italians in producing a film essentially spectacular, yet having in it the heart necessary to create suspense and sympathy for its characters. Though it is just about the biggest thing conceivable from a spectacular viewpoint, the story is never lost sight of for an instant and the series of thrilling novelties which it contains could only have been originated by a great mind.

Some one asked the manager of the show what kind of a film it was. He stumbled around for a reply, and finally said, "I cannot describe it." If one were inclined to be witty they might call it a "hash of the emotions"—for if there is a human emotion not displayed, it was an oversight of the author. He has them all in it—hate, love, jealousy, fear, revenge, self-sacrifice, patriotism, despondency and even mother-love!

MODERN WOODMEN.

Cedar Cap, No. 4727, M. W. of A., met Wednesday night and considerable business was transacted. Three applications for beneficial membership were received and acted upon. One application for beneficial membership was adopted. The Woodman memorial will be held this year on June 10, and the program will be ready for distribution about June 1. Since the last memorial fifteen members of Cedar Camp have died. It is the desire of the memorial committee that every member be in line on that day, and if possible, to bring flowers. It was decided not to hold a meeting on next Wednesday night. The forester team has accepted the invitation of the G. A. R. to participate with them in the services and parade on Memorial day. On the second regular meeting in June a class will be adopted.

Make a list of requirements such as beauty, comfort, convenience, horsepower and the like.
Overland has won the verdict of over 400,000 owners after a comparison of such items.
If this is not enough to convince you, then judge your Overland by what you cannot see.
You cannot see the accuracy, the minute care, nor the patient perfecting that are practiced in Willys-Overland manufacturing methods.
But you may know that these things are definite Willys-Overland accomplishments—else it would never have been possible for us to market those 400,000 cars.
You cannot see the quality in the materials—the scientific reasons for designs, nor the proven superiority of every part and principle.
These things, and the millions in economies effected by Willys-Overland's vast production, are vital factors in your car although not visible to the layman's eye. But they are visible to the layman's reason—they are seen in continued consistent performance—and they are shown convincingly in the price that gives you a better car for less money.
The Big Four—the car that made Overland—exemplifies this excess value. The experience accumulated in the building of over 300,000 similar four-cylinder Overlands has contributed directly to the development and perfecting of this model.
Test its superior mechanical excellence and remarkable easy riding qualities—come in and judge for yourself its incomparable beauty of design.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR NEWARK

SOME HARD COLD FACTS ABOUT A NEWARK INDUSTRY

Newark is known as an industrial city. We prefer to have it known as the city of INDUSTRY and E NTERPRISE, a city with the vision to see in the small industry of today the great industry of the future and with the enterprise to grasp the opportunities which come its way.

A City Grows As Its Factories Grow Or Multiply

IS NEWARK KEEPING PACE WITH HER SISTER CITIES OF OHIO IN INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT?

IS NEWARK ALIVE TO HER OPPORTUNITIES

Is Newark doing her best to develop her own industrial resources of proven merit?

In this advertisement we shall attempt to plead the cause of one of the smaller industries already within our midst and whose further development we believe to be Newark's opportunity today.

Is an industry with a pay roll of $60,000 per year worthy of the consideration of the citizens of our city? We believe it is, and we believe thoughtful people will realize that money invested in the stock of such a concern will return to the community, not only in dividends, but in receipts to our merchants.

We believe that money invested in the stock of the NEWARK STAMPING & FOUNDRY COMPANY will be profitable not only from the dividend return, but as a community service.

We believe if given the proper safeguards the people of Newark will be loyal to its industries and disprove the statement that our industries must seek new localities should they require additional capital. We believe an industry should have sufficient age to demonstrate its success before calling upon the people for support, but we also believe that when such is the case, it is up to the loyal citizens to respond with all the support necessary.

With this idea in mind may we call your attention to this industry whose progress has been little short of phenomenal? Little has been heard of this enterprise outside the small group of men who have been directly concerned in its development, but the time has come when the business has grown to such proportions that additional capital is needed.

Ask the average citizen of Newark if there is a plant located here that is furnishing hose clamps to 90% of the automobile manufacturers and nine chances to one you will have a negative answer.

The fact of the matter is we have a plant whose product is known from coast to coast and is better known in California and Texas than in Newark.

Thousands of dollars have been paid to this firm by such well known manufacturers as the Willys-Overland Company, Ford Motor Company, Chalmers Motor Company, Saxon Motor Company, Dodge Motor Company, in fact every manufacturer of any prominence is paying yearly large sums to this firm for the patented hose clamps known as "The Thompson Hose Clamp."

Just take your pencil and figure a little, each and every automobile manufacturer must use from four to six clamps on each car. The clamp is just as important as the tire. A leaky radiator will cause you just as much trouble as a poor tire.

The Ford Company is making an average of 400,000 cars per year. Allowing six clamps to the car you have 2,400,000 clamps.

It is not necessary to carry this any further as any school boy can see that there is demand for this product and it is unlimited.

On account of the products manufactured by this company being covered by patents they have practically a monopoly on this business.

On account of lack of capital the Thompson Clamp so far has only been offered to the automobile industry but the largest field that remains to be exploited is the railroad.

FIELD UNLIMITED

Every automobile manufacturer, automobile owner, dealer repair man, hardware merchant, supply dealer, wholesale merchant and the great railroad systems of the country are possible customers for the THOMPSON HOSE CLAMPS.

DEMAND ALWAYS STAPLE

Owing to the fact that the automobile can not be used, a railroad train moved unless it is equipped with a hose clamp, the sale does not depend upon business conditions nor is it seasonable, in fact poor business would have a tendency to increase the sale as more repairing would be done than otherwise, using more clamps.

ADDITIONAL WORK OFFERED

The company has been compelled to refuse order after order for automobile metal stampings on account of lack of capital to purchase additional presses and other equipment to turn out work.

MONEY IS NEEDED TO INSTALL MORE EQUIPMENT TO OPERATE

The plant is no longer an experiment, it is a sure thing, with orders ahead to operate day after day.

Now "Mr. Loyal Citizen" have you enough civic pride to want to help this home industry by buying some stock and by so doing, help yourself and make Newark a busier city?

SOMEWHERE IN THE UNITED STATES

Several months ago the company entered into an agreement with a very prominent manufacturer to take practically all of the tonnage from the foundry department The contract is large enough to give thirty molders steady work day in and day out for an indefinite period. Owing to the character of this work we are not permitted to make the name of the contracting firm public, but any one interested can obtain the information from the management.

"Mr. Merchant of Newark" you are interested in new industries for Newark, why not help to keep one that is paying union wages amounting to $1200.00 per week?

In the beginning we said we wanted you to help develop a small industry but not an experiment, one that already has orders on its books for a long period and only lacks capital to grow into a large industry.

Every dollar distributed by this firm is secured by a sale of their products outside of Newark.

Think this over "Mr. Merchant" and see if you think it would be a wise move to permit another growing industry to go elsewhere.

If a company is manufacturing a single line, only, there is a chance of a slump in business but the Newark Stamping & Foundry Company is not depending upon one item alone.

Under the head of NESTCO PRODUCTS they produce the THOMPSON HOSE CLAMP, metal stampings, galvanizing, plating and metal finishing, at Plant No. 1.

Wood and metal patterns of all kind, aluminum, brass and gray iron castings, at Plant No. 2.

This company is offering through us to the citizens of Newark $15,000 of 6% Non-Taxable Preferred Stock.

See this company's exhibit at the Merchants & Manufacturers' Exposition at the tabernacle next week.

PEOPLE APPROVE IDEA OF MEDALS FOR THE SOLDIERS

The people of this community are united in their approval of the suggestion to present every Licking county soldier and sailor boy with a badge or medal as a community gift. Many messages are coming to this office all heartily endorsing the plan.

Of course it is known that the soldiers are not allowed to wear badges upon their uniforms, but the plan is to make the gift an identification badge of some sort that may be worn under the uniform. It is proposed to make it of metal and engrave it with the name and address of the owner.

The Advocate will receive contributions to the fund, both at this office and at The Advocate booth in the Exposition all next week. Sums of 10 cents or more will be received, but nobody will be given personal cerdit for more than 25 cents. If one gives a dollar he is asked to give it on the name of four people. If he gives $5 it may be given in the names of twenty people or registered as "cash." The Advocate will print the names of the contributors.

Mr. Charles Hempsted called at this office this afternoon to endorse the proposition and to leave a contribution for the medal fund.

Editor of The Advocate.
I am sending an old soldier's widow's mite for the soldier boys' badge fund. I am past 80 years. May God crown your efforts is my wish. So glad you put it in the reach of the poor. I pray God's blessing on all the boys.
Mrs. Fannie Scott,
84 High Street.

Editor of The Advocate:
The Advocate's suggestion that we present each Licking county man entering the service a memento in the form of a medal is most worthy and I heartily concur with the idea. It will remind our boys who go to the front that they are not forgotten by the folks at home. The uniform subscription plan would probably prove most popular
T. B. Fulton.

Editor of The Advocate:
I was very much pleased with your suggestion that we present the Licking county boys about to enter Uncle Sam's army and navy with medals of recognition. By all means let us follow up the suggestion and give everyone an opportunity to contribute.
Robbins Hunter.

Editor of The Advocate:
I am sure that all our citizens will approve your suggestion that we present each Licking county boy entering the army with a distinctive badge or medal. Let us raise a fund by popular subscriptions and make it small enough so that everyone can assist in the good cause.
J. W. Hursey.

Editor of The Advocate:
Here is a dollar for the fund with which to buy medals or badges for the Licking county boys who enlist.
W. E. Anderson, R. D. No. 8.

Editor of The Advocate:
Referring to The Advocate's suggestion to give Licking county boys who enlist some sort of a badge or button as a mark of honor and appreciation of their action. This occurs to me as being an exceedingly commendable movement. In addition to the suggestion, would it not be well to have the recipient's name either stamped or engraved on the emblem, which would not only add to the intrinsic value, but serve as means of identification.
O. C. Parrill.

Editor of The Advocate:
Get the badges by all means. Everyone of us young men who register without claiming exemption is an unqualified volunteer. Enclosed please find donation which is slightly selfish on my part as I intend it as "bread cast on the waters." Make the badges of metallic substance, small and compact, so that they can go into action under our uniforms and whether we come back or are left on the battlefield, they will mark us as Licking county's contribution to the cause of world freedom.

SCOUTS LEARN USE OF EXTINGUISHERS GUARD TABERNACLE

Forty-five Boy Scouts were out this morning for a 6 o'clock hike. They marched to Cedar Hill cemetery for final drill in preparation for Memorial day parade.

Rotarian Ernest Sims of the Avery-Loeb Co., gave the scouts a fire drill. A fire was built and different squads were given instructions in the use of fire extinguishers. A squad of Boy Scouts will be on duty at the tabernacle every evening during the exposition next week. The first squad will be in charge of Ralph Wyeth. It is expected that a man will be on duty from the fire department. Every precaution is being taken for the safety of the crowds at the tabernacle.

CONVENTION DELEGATES HEAR TALKS ON SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK AND BOOZE

Saturday Morning Session.

Rev. M. R. White, of Newark gave the audience a good talk on "Class Organization." He said the knowledge accumulated in Sunday Schools should be passed on to others who know it not. The Sunday School has a great message to carry, and every Christian should have the courage to deliver it to others.

Arthur T. Arnold said the three things most important in Sunday School work are power, quantity and quality.

Above all things, quality should be emphasized, said Mr. Arnold. When we place leaders of quality in our Sunday Schools, we save time, energy and money. Many of our church officials are "good fellows" in our Sunday Schools, who are put in not because of their efficiency but due to their popularity.

Rev. L. C. Emerick of Newark, followed Mr. Arnold's address, his subject being "Teaching in the Sunday School." As the public school teacher is trained for her duty, the Sunday School teacher should be equally trained.

Robert Northey, of Newark, gave a very forceful talk in regard to "Bible Study."

Miss Philberta Hutzell of Hebron gave a good talk on "Child Study."

At the same time the meetings were being held for the grown people, the children's congress was in session across the street in the Plymouth Congregational church. The opening song service was under the direction of C. H. Rankin.

Miss Laura Kirk, gave an impressive talk on the "Plan and Purpose of the Convention."

Other speakers were Mrs. Phebe Curtiss and Burr Blackburn.

Friday Afternoon.

The first meeting of the 37th annual convention of the Licking County Sunday School Association, was held Friday afternoon in the Auditorium of the Central Church of Christ. D. A. Bricker of Utica, who is president of the association, gave a few remarks regarding the meetings, after which Mr. Carrol took charge of the music. The tabernacle song books were used, and Mr. Carrol by his enthusiasm produced some spirited singing from the audience. Rev. H. T. Bay of Hanover took charge of the devotional exercises.

The reports of the different townships were next taken up. Many of the secretaries were absent, but the following townships had representatives who gave full and interesting accounts of the work carried on by the Sunday Schools in Union, Granville, Harrison, Liberty, and Lima townships. The Sunday school organizations in these districts are doing much for the welfare of the community, and especially the children. The county secretary, Miss Nellie Wygant, then gave her report.

The main speaker of the afternoon was Arthur T. Arnold, the general secretary of Ohio Sunday Schools Association, whose subject was, "The Christian's Thought Life." Mr. Arnold stated his appreciation in regard to the good work which was being carried on in the different Sunday Schools. "God's people ought to be ashamed to aim only at the small things in life," he said, "but should aim at the big things and conquer them. The present war is taking the very finest leadership away from us, so it is the duty of the present Sunday Schools to begin training the younger boys for service to God, by bringing before them the highest ideals, and teaching them to strive for the big things in life."

Mr. Arnold called the attention of the people to the book of Philippians, fourth chapter. He dwelt long and earnestly on the wonders and possibilities of the mind. He said: "If we should lose our hearing, we could see the many beautiful things about us, if we lost our sight we could hear the voices of our loved ones, but when robbed of the mind, we are even shut out from God with no communion or companionship." The speaker emphatically declared that church people, to a great degree were lazy. Only when they are entertained by graveyard stories to make them cry, and funny stories to make them laugh, will the average church congregation be interested; but give them good wholesome things to study and think about in relation with the Bible and they immediately doze off to sleep. Mr. Arnold declared that God wants us to think out the big questions which are continually coming up, so that we can come to wise conclusions.

"It means something to be a Christian in the head," he said; "we will have to answer for acts of mind, because it is there we find all underlying thoughts imbedded, before the action occurs. He revised the quotation from the Bible, "As ye thinketh in your heart, so are ye," to "As ye thinketh in your head, so are ye."

"Men and women cannot be transformed in one day, by an emotional sensation. When this occurs they lack stability. It takes heroic effort and daily toil to make a sound Christian. If we are transformed our minds must be transformed first, because then our work and service is revived to a greater degree. It isn't religion to stand up and sing "God Will Take Care of You," and in ten minutes be worrying about the most trivial thing possible."

After much discussion on the "worry" subject, Mr. Arnold declared that we worry about the things we think are going to happen, and stated that we never can prevent a thing from happening by worry, and only weaken our energies by so doing. "Then when the real crisis does come," he said, "we haven't the vitality and strength to meet the problem squarely in the face. If you worry, kill it with faith. If your thoughts are evil, overcome them with good ones. If your thoughts are unkind, conquer them by kind thoughts. In doing these things we will gain victories for good."

Mr. Arnold urged the women in the audience to allow their minds to dwell upon the beautiful things of life that God has given us so abundantly, instead of going to the sewer for thought, or in reality that of gossiping. "It not only degrades the person of whom you are speaking, but you are lowering yourself to a far greater depth," he said.

Mr. Carrol favored the audience with a song which concluded the meeting. Mr. Bricker then dismissed all except the county officers who held a meeting in the basement of the church.

The questions most widely discussed at this time by the officers, dealt with the state convention at Marion the latter part of June. Mr. Arnold emphasized the need of sending keen men and women as delegates who could bring back a good substantial report. Mr. Bricker and Mr. Ray, also gave good suggestions along this line. A very interesting discussion was held in regard to ways and means of keeping the boy and girl in touch with church work during the summer months. Edward Weaver of Hebron gave valuable suggestions concerning this topic.

These meetings are doing much good along Sunday School lines, and greater effort will be put forth during the following months, because of the valuable thoughts the delegates will carry away with them.

Evening Session.

At 7:30, Friday evening, the auditorium of the Central Church of Christ was completely filled, being the second big meeting of the county Sunday school convention.

With a series of old-fashioned hymns, dear to all hearts, Mr. Carrol, the leader of the music, inspired all with enthusiasm, and as a result some good music was furnished. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. W. D. Akers of Homer. D. A. Bricker, the president of the association, gave a hearty invitation to all the delegates to remain in Newark over night. Andrew S. Mitchell also made remarks in this connection and urged everyone to stay and have a good time. Mr. Bricker then introduced Arthur T. Arnold to the audience. Mr. Arnold's subject was: "Constructive Work in the Sabbath School."

The three things of value in the construction of the Sunday school, he said, are mass, meaning number of people, and the enthusiasm that a great number of people create; momentum, meaning speed, and direction, or the path that the Sunday schools are following. In relation to the word mass, Mr. Arnold pointed out how the Sunday schools should be like a mighty army, conquering the foes. "But we are not that wished for army because church-going is mere sentiment on the part of most people," he said. "They do not come with the earnestness and enthusiasm, which is needed to conquer the big problems of life. Another hindrance, in the formation of the big army, is that of so many denominations in church. Each little church tries to be a unit in itself; therefore making too many divisions, instead of having one great mass fighting together for the right cause. The churches have not been trained to fight together. Until we are mobilized and organized into a mighty army we can do little good for the great questions which need our help, and it takes a mass to put force back of our work."

Mr. Arnold next commented on the paths the different people were following. The main thing in Sunday schools are the teachers. Many teachers come with slipshod lessons, unprepared to teach sacred things.

"The church is full of puny bees, who are traitors," he said. "If they can't have things their own way they sting. Do anything that will disable life. Many churches have the wrong idea of social life also. They call an oyster supper or a ten-cent social, the social life of the church. Social life is entirely uncommercialized, and is not conducted for money purposes." Mr. Arnold said to let the boys and girls enter into the social spirit. The meanest man alive is he, who forgets he was once a boy. Ohio should take a greater interest in producing more Christian men. The speaker then asked a collection to be taken which will go to the darkest corners of Ohio.

Prof. H. F. Moninger spoke on "The Relation Between the Home, School and Sunday School." These three institutions, said Mr. Moninger, are the three greatest institutions in the universe and should work harmoniously for the good of the world. The home, the oldest of all these institutions, is deficient, at present, in religious work. The father of the family, during this century, is too busy to read the Bible at nights to the family as the Puritan father did; he must get food for the mouth, instead of giving food for the mind. The schools and church are supplying these brain foods. The speaker pointed out that a child enters school at the tender age of six. From six to fourteen he spends the greater part of his life in the school room, being in contact with a Christian teacher, and forming the right kind of habits from association. In school the child is taught to give everyone a square deal and he learns to know the right from the wrong. This alone does more for the child than a chapter in the Bible, carelessly read, Mr. Moninger said. In the study of history, they can see the past mistakes of the people, and profit by those mistakes in the future. Mr. Moninger stated that the teacher in the schoolroom was a missionary to the same extent as the one who goes far away, because the teacher has charge of many little lives, whose souls she can bring to Christ by teaching them the way. The speaker closed his address by showing how these institutions should co-operate in order to bring the best results.

The closing address was by one of the leading prohibitionists of the day—Tom Hare of Virginia. Many people who vote against the prohibition ticket, said Mr. Hare, are those who do so unthinkingly. They have to be told personally the great evils of alcohol, but even thousands of church members vote "wet," because the truth has not been brought to them in the right light. The business of the Sunday school is to locate these people, talk to them and win them over to the side which is right. Personal experiences count for more than any thing else, he said. One man may win over his brother, a wife her husband, a sister her brother. Every person who serves God should get on the job, said Mr. Hare.

The liquor question in relation with the war was discussed. If for no other reason, Ohio should vote dry because of the war. Many could not enlist because liquor had made them physically deficient. Drinking and the evils brought on by means of it are taking more men in the trenches than bullets and gas, he said. The sugar and grains taken from the country to make liquor in one year, would feed the whole English army. Time was lost by the employes in the great munition factories last year because of liquor and as a result the soldiers lacked supplies. The only way to get rid of it is to put it out forever, he said. In such a manner, West Virginia solved her problem. It is up to Ohio now to settle the national prohibition question. By reading a very appropriate poem, "John Barleycorn," Mr. Hare closed his talk.

What is a home without a good roof? In building materials as in almost any other line you can secure material that at first thought seems especially reasonable in price, but experience proves it to be costly. HIPPLE NEARLY DIED WHEN VEIN IN LEG BURSTED

Daniel M. Hipple of Beech street, was taken to the City hospital, Friday night, in a serious and unconscious condition as the result of a peculiar accident.

Mr. Hipple is employed at the Burke Golf company in the wood department under John Deering. He returned from work Friday evening and going in the gate at his residence, he felt something warm against his leg but thought nothing of it. He entered his home and stood around the kitchen for awhile and happening to look at the floor found he was standing in a pool of blood. A large vein in the right leg had burst, and before a physician could be summoned he was unconscious. Dr. P. H. Cosner was called, but he nearly bled to death before the doctor arrived. The flow of blood was stopped and he was removed to the City hospital where he was unconscious until late last night. His condition, however, is improved today.

WANTS TO AID U. S. BUT DOESN'T KNOW HIS NATIONALITY

There is a young man in the service of the safety department, who is anxious to join the navy. He is a foreigner, but does not know his nationality, neither does he know whether he is an American citizen or not, and is leaving the matter to the proper officials for a decision. His mother died when he was a mere youngster. He came to this country when four years of age with his parents, both of whom died before he had reached the age of ten. He was reared in the home of strangers and brought up an American, but never knew whether his father had taken out naturalization papers or not. He undoubtedly is entitled to citizenship, but wishes an official record, and he will receive this in due time from the government.

is a condition of nervous exhaustion. Worry, overwork, excesses, an attack of the grip—many things may cause it. Symptoms: Oversensitiveness, irritability, headache and a disposition to worry. The only way to feed undernourished nerves is through the blood.

Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People are recommended in such cases because they are a non-alcoholic tonic and through the blood build up the weakened nerve cells. They also correct a tendency to anemia, usual in neurasthenia.

ITALIAN HEAVY GUNS POUNDING AT DUINO GATES

General Cadorna's Troops Within Two Miles of Barrier to Triest

MOUNT QUERCETO GOARDS MANY MILES OF GROUND

Other War Theaters Quiet and Political Situation Absorbs Interest

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Rome, May 28, via London.—The Italians have crossed the Timavo river and occupied the village of San Giovanni, northwest of Duino, near the Gulf of Triest, the war office announces. They have captured nine 6-inch guns.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, May 28.—The Italians have fought their way forward to within two miles of Duino, the most formidable natural barrier between them and Triest. The great battle now enters its 18th day without any sign of an abatement in the fury of the struggle. Vienna stubbornly refuses to concede the Italian victories but the map tells the story of General Cadorna's steady advance.

Duino, at the gates of which the Italians' guns are now hammering, marks a point at which the Carso Plateau almost touches the sea. Protected by the ocean on the one side it is powerfully defended to the north by Mount Querceto, a height of considerable magnitude which dominates the country for miles around. At the foot of Mount Querceto, facing the west, lies the little town of Medeazza and the Italians have smashed their way to within a few hundred yards of this village. It is possible that a lull will occur before they attempt the formidable task of storming Mount Querceto.

From no other theatre of the war comes any news of importance but the political situation continues of absorbing interest. Dispatches from Brazil indicate that it is mere a question of days, if not of hours, before the Brazilian parliament follows the lead of the administration and aligns Brazil with the eleven nations now fighting the central powers. At the same time a new crisis is threatened between Spain and Germany through the sinking of a Spanish passenger ship with a heavy loss of life. This disaster occurs on the heels of an announcement from Madrid that Germany had given satisfactory assurances in reply to Spain's latest note regarding the destruction of Spanish ships by German submarines. No details however, have been received in regard to the sinking of the passenger liner and it is possible that the tragedy was not due to a U-boat.

The battle between reactionaries and liberals in Austria-Hungary goes merrily forward and there are reports of further impending ministerial resignations in Vienna and Budapest. Sensations are promised at the sessions of the Austrian parliament but it remains to be seen how much news will be able to escape the censor. In Germany the violence of the attacks on Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg indicates the acuteness of the political crisis but the recess of the Reichstag renders even mere meagre than usual the information that seeps across the border.

Today's statements from the various war offices regarding the Franco-Belgian front operations reveal somewhat heavy fighting at a few points but no warked change in the situation.

Persistent attempts are being continued by the Germans to regain control of the important observation points recently wrested from them by the French in the Champagne. Paris reports the repulse of all these attacks including three fresh attempts, two made during last night and one this morning.

The German army headquarters statement announces a German success in the capture of a line of trenches south of Moronvilliers, in the Champagne.

The French report on this operation issued last night declared all the ground taken by the Germans in penetrating the French line was recovered in a counter attack.

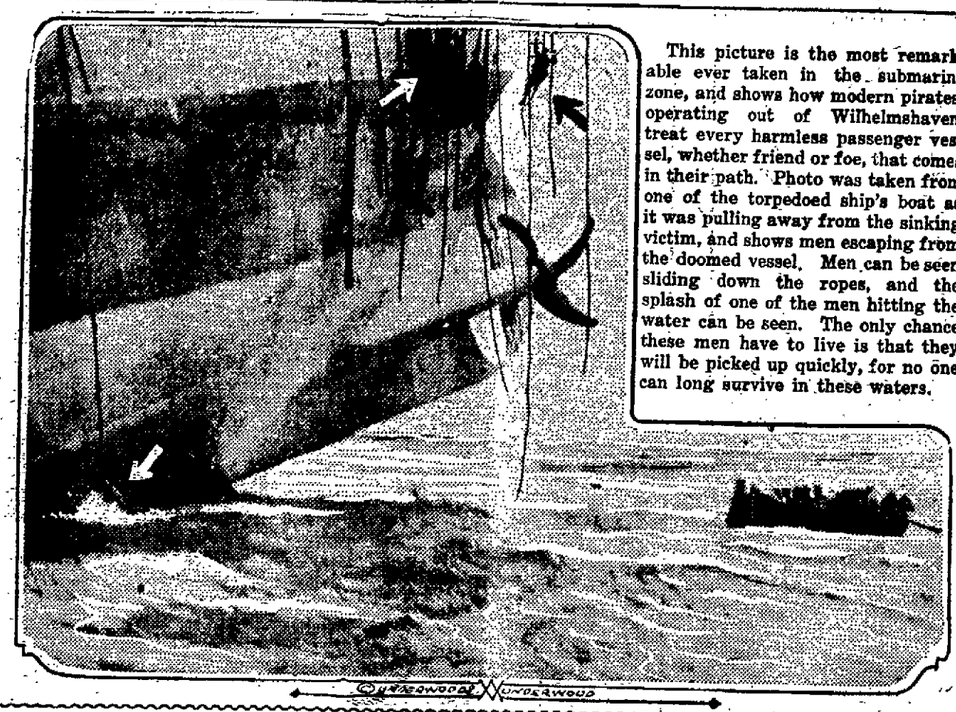
MOST REMARKABLE PICTURE EVER TAKEN IN SUBMARINE ZONE SHOWS HOW PRESENT-DAY PIRATES DISPOSE OF THEIR PREY



This picture is the most remarkable ever taken in the submarine zone, and shows how modern pirates, operating out of Wilhelmshaven, treat every harmless passenger vessel, whether friend or foe, that comes in their path. Photo was taken from one of the torpedoed ship's boat as it was pulling away from the sinking victim, and shows men escaping from the doomed vessel. Men can be seen sliding down the ropes, and the splash of one of the men hitting the water can be seen. The only chance these men have to live is that they will be picked up quickly, for no one can long survive in these waters.

SENATE CUTS MORE ITEMS FROM THE WAR TAX MEASURE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, May 28.—Involving further reduction of the house war tax bill by $15,000,000, the senate finance committee today decided to exempt picture films, jewelry and chewing gum from taxation. A new confectionery tax was considered.

Instead of the house rates on manufacturers' gross sales of athletic goods, perfumes, cosmetics and proprietary medicines, the committee decided to keep them as sources of revenue, but bu stamp taxes instead of the five per cent gross sales tax. The committee also is considering a tax on tonnage of pleasure yachts instead of the house tax on their cost.

Under the house bill $2,000,000 would have been raised from athletic goods, $4,750,000 from cosmetics and perfumery and $8,500,000 from proprietary medicines. The committee has not determined whether higher or lower revenue returns will result from a stamp tax.

BADGES ORDERED FOR REGISTRATION DAY JUNE 5TH

The Advocate this afternoon placed an order for 2500 button badges to be presented to every Licking county young man who presents himself for registration on Friday, June 5th, 1917.

The badges will be printed in red white and blue and besides carrying the American flag will read: "Registered June 5, 1917. Licking County, Ohio. A Call to the Colors."

Beginning tonight at the opening of the Newark Exposition at the tabernacle, The Advocate will receive contributions in the sum of 10 cents or more for the payment of these badges and for the purchase of metallic badges or medals which will be engraved with name and address and presented to every soldier who enters the army or navy from Licking county.

Should the fund be oversubscribed the surplus will be given to the Red Cross.

The Advocate will publish the names of all who contribute 10 cents or more but will not print the amount one subscribes. This will let everybody in on the same basis.

The design for the identification badge is not yet ready. The leading badge house in the country has been asked to submit a design.

When you pass The Advocate booth at the exposition leave a dime or more with your name for the badge fund. Let's show this little recognition to our soldier boys.

ITALIAN MISSION WANTS COAL AND RAW MATERIALS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, May 28. — The Italian mission today tentatively accepted an invitation to visit New York, which is said to have a population of Italians greater than any city in Italy.

Mayor Mitchel, heading a delegation of citizens and officials, extended the invitation and in the name of the Prince of Udine it was tentatively accepted for June 15.

The mission held its first formal business conferences with American officials today when the question of ships and transportation was discussed. The continued importation of coal and raw products for munitions manufacture is absolutely essential to Italy's safety and alarm about the U-boat campaign has been only slightly decreased by recent successes against them.

The mission members were guests of Secretary and Mrs. Lansing at a garden party at the Pan-American Union this afternoon.

Hundreds of Lives Lost When Tornado Sweeps Many States

For Three Days Storms Have Swept Seven States of Middle West Taking Heavy Toll of Lives and Ruining Crops

SUNDAY AFTERNOON STORM CLAIMS 100 DEAD IN MISSISSIPPI VALLEY

Saturday's Storm Visited Illinois Corn Belt, Killing 100 People and Injuring Nearly 1,000 and Destroying Property Worth Two Millions—Two Disasters Follow Closely Upon Storm In Kansas Where 26 People Were Killed—Details of Sunday's Storm Difficult to Obtain Because Wires Are Down

Tornadoes during the last three days in seven states of the middle-west and the south have killed nearly 250 persons, injured more than 1200, wrecked thousands of homes, killed hundreds of head of live stock and devastated many thousands of acres of growing crops, according to summaries early today.

The latest in the series of tornadoes, started Sunday afternoon apparently in the vicinity of Willisville, in southwestern Illinois, swept southward across the Ohio river into Kentucky, down the Mississippi into Arkansas and Tennessee and finally veering eastward toward Alabama, where the storm apparently spent itself. The dead in the four southern states was roughly estimated at one hundred and the injured at several hundred.

Wire communication into the districts swept by the storm Sunday is demoralized and only meager reports of the loss of life and the property damage have been received.

The destruction began last Friday in Andale, Kansas, where 26 people were killed and 60 injured.

Late Saturday a twister, probably the most severe of the series, struck the rich corn belt of central Illinois, killing 54 persons and injuring perhaps 500 in Mattoon. At Charleston, ten miles east of Mattoon, 37 were killed and more than 150 injured. The property damage in the two cities is estimated at $2,000,000. Another destructive storm late Saturday crossed a territory approximately 100 miles north of the center of Illinois, reached into northern Indiana and caused the loss of a dozen lives, the injury of more than 200 and a heavy property damage.

Revised figures on dead and injured in the storms of the last three days in Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Missouri, Tennessee, Alabama and Arkansas show a total of 245 dead and 1,207 injured. The table of casualties:

State	Dead	Inj.
Illinois	92	650
Indiana	12	220
Kansas	26	60
Kentucky	40	60
Missouri	1	12
Tennessee	20	53
Alabama	31	100
Arkansas	23	53
Totals	248	1,207

Professor Henry Cox, director at Chicago of the United States weather bureau, said today that the storms of the last few days in the middle west and south were due to great humidity and low barometer common in this territory in May and June.

SWEEPS FOUR STATES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Memphis, Tenn., May 28.—The series of tornadoes that swept middle western states Friday and Saturday extended southward into Kentucky, Tennessee an Arkansas and Alabama late yesterday and unverified reports put the number of dead at nearly a hundred, the injured at many hunreds and the property and crop damage at hundreds of thousans of dollars. Communication still is badly demoralized today, particularly with remote sections.

The tornado did most damage along the eastern bank of the Mississippi River from Tiptonville, Tenn., to Hickman, Ky., Dublin, and Mosdow, Tenn., and Ledford, Clinton and Bardwell, Ky., are reported to have suffered severely both in loss of life and property damage. Moscow and Dublin, according to one report, were virtually destroyed. Other reports told of bodies recovered at Bondurant and Clinton, the number of dead running as high as 35 at the latter place.

Six persons were killed at South Dyersburg, Tenn.; two at Sharon, Tenn., and two at Antioch. Tiptonville reported six deaths at Pate Landing, near there and 15 were reported dead near Tims Point and other points in Mississippi county, Arkansas.

The storm extending into central Alabama, wrecked the small mining town of Sayre, near Birmingham, killing 12 persons, injuring 65 and demolishing a hundred houses, according to meager reports.

Hail and rain fell at other points in the south with considerable damage to growing crops.

Reports today estimated the number of dead in the vicinity of Hickman, Ky., at approximately 40, in Mississippi county, Arkansas, 15 were killed; 12 were reported dead at Sayre, Ala.; six were killed in the vicinity of Dyersburg, Tenn.; six at Cates Landing near Tiptonville, Tenn., and two at the village of Baker, near Antioch, Tenn., and two at Sharon, Tenn.

Within a radius of 12 miles of Hickman where the storm apparently wrought its greatest havoc, more than two score of injured have been taken from the wreckage of farm dwellings and the more substantial buildings in the towns of Bondurant, Bardwell, Clinton and Ledford, near Cates Landing. The number of injured was reported as between 25 and 30; in the central part of Dyers county, near Dyersburg, about 30 injured and Sharon reported 12 injured. Latest reports from Sayre estimate the number of injured at 50 or more. No estimate of the damage to property or to crops could be made with accuracy. Hundreds of buildings, however, were demolished or wrecked and large areas of growing cotton and food crops were leveled by the wind and heavy fall of hail which accompanied the storms.

Reports indicate that the storm first appeared on the Arkansas side of the Mississipi river in Mississippi county near the town of Manila, where eight persons lost their lives. Crossing the river at Cates Landing, Dyersburg and the territory about Hickman felt its force late yesterday and last night the mining town Sayre, several hundred miles to the south, was swept.

In Hickman a number of homes were damaged and in West Hickman the power plant which supplies the city with light was wrecked, putting the place in darkness. Of the other known dead in that vicinity 18 lost their lives when tenements on the farm of Syd L. Dodds at Ledford, were blown down. Of the villages in southwestern Kentucky, through which the storm cut its path, Bard-

BLAME ALASKA'S VOLCANO FOR FOOD SHORTAGE IN WAR

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Seattle, Wash., May 28.—Headed by Profesor Robert F. Griggs, of Ohio State University, the National Geographic Society's expedition to investigate the effects of the great eruption of Mount Katmai, Alaska, that began June 7, 1912, sailed today from Seattle on the steamer Watson.

With Professor Griggs are James F. Hine, C. F. Maynard, J. W. Shipley, D. B. Church, Jasper Sayre, and Paul Hazelberger, scientists. They take with them supplies and equipment for a study of the effects of the eruption, regarded as one of the four greatest in history, the others having taken place in Ireland, Japan and the straits Settlement. Although the Katmai eruption caused no loss of life, it was responsible, scientists say, for the cloudy summer of 1912 in north America and Europe, resulting in a partial crop failure. Before the world could accumulate a surplus of food again, the European war broke out and since that time there has been no reserve stock of etibles.

Professor Griggs, leader of the party is the principal authority on Katmai, having visited the crater the last two summers. He found it miles across and thousands of feet deep, with a sputtering lake at the bottom.

Mount Katmai overlooks Shelikeff Strait, which separates Kodiak Island from the Alaska peninsula. When Katmai burst its bonds, it belched forth fine ashes that fell on an average 10 feet deep for a radius of 100 miles. There was an appreciable fall of ashes as far south as Victoria, B. C., and scientists found ashes in Virginia, Northern Africa and Europe.
